

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A Marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., New York.

From the Executive Mansion.

Mr. A. K. HAWKES—Dear Sir: The pantiscopic glasses you furnished me some time since give excellent satisfaction. I have tested them by use, and must say they are unequalled in clearness and brilliancy by any that I have ever worn. Respectfully, JOHN B. GORDON,
Governor of Georgia.

The Consular Service.

Positions That Have Not Been Filled By President Harrison.

APPLICATIONS LAID ASIDE.

About Fifty Offices That Will Not Be Vacant Until Death or Resignation Leave Them So—Men Who Have Served the Government for Twenty Years or Over.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Of the large number of positions in the consular service that have not been filled by the president, about fifty will remain with their present occupants. During the administration of President Cleveland about this number of consular officers who had been appointed under Republican rule were permitted to retain their positions.

President Harrison will not, of course, remove these persons and consequently a considerable number of applications filed at the state department have been pointed out as a vacancy at any of the posts. Eleven have served some at more than one place, for twenty years or over. These are George W. Roosevelt, of Pennsylvania, who was recently transferred to Brussels; Thomas Adams-son, of Pennsylvania, who is now at Panama as consular general, but has been consul at Pernambuco, Honolulu, Melbourne and Rio de Janeiro; Charles P.
Williams, of New York, at Rouen; R. B.
Dinze, of Pennsylvania, consular agent at St. Bartholomew; A. G. Studer, of Iowa, at Bremen, Germany; H. J.
Sprague, of Massachusetts, at Gibraltar; Thomas N. Molloy, of New York, at St.
Johns, N. F.; William T. Rice, of Massachusetts, at Leghorn; Enoch J.
Smithers, of Delaware, at Osaka and Higo, Japan; Alexander Willard, of California, at Guaymas, Mexico, and Richard Gade, a native Norwegian, at Christiania, Norway.

The others who were appointed under Republican administrations and who have held positions in the consular service for periods ranging from six to nineteen years are Edward L. Baker, of Illinois, at Buenos Ayres; John H.
Stewart, of Pennsylvania, at Antwerp; R. B. Ryder, of New York, at Copenhagen; Charles Bartlett, of Maine, at Gatoupe; Frank H. Mason, of Ohio, at Frankfurt; Edmund Johnson, of New Jersey, at Kehl; C. E. Jackson, of Wisconsin, at Antigua; E. R. Jones, of Wisconsin, at Cardiff; A. B. Wood, of New York, at Dundee; William H. Levitell, of Louisiana, at Kingston; A.
G. Webster, of Tasmania, at Hobart; William F. Grinnell, of New York, a brother-in-law of Vice President Morton's, at Manchester, England; T. T.
Prestiss, of Vermont, at Port Louis Mauritius; E. S. Delisle, at St. Christopher, W. I.; G. W.
Griffin, of Kentucky, at Sydney, N. S. W.; J. W. Taylor, of Minnesota, at Winnipeg; E. Babcock, at Patras, Greece; S. Goutier, of Pennsylvania, at Cape Haytie; W. C. Burchard, of New York, at Ruatan; A. M. Wood, of New York, at Castellamare Italy; P. Carroll, of New York, at Palermo; W. P. Sutton, of Michigan, at Nuevo Laredo; D. Eckstein, of Ohio, at Amsterdam; D. C.
Van Romondt, at St. Martin, W. I.; S. W. Dabney, of Massachusetts, at Patal; E. O. Williams, of New York, at Havana; H. C. Marston, of Illinois, at Malaga; F. C. Gade, at Bergen, Norway; N. A. Elfving, at Stockholm, Sweden; L. T. Adams, of New Jersey, at Horgen; G. L. Catlin, of New Jersey, at Zurich, and E. H. Plumacher, of Tennessee, at Maracaibo.

Twelve consular clerks who hold life positions are not included among these.
Horatio J. Sprague has been consul at Gibraltar since 1848, and is the oldest consul in the service. There is at least one office in the service for which no candidates have appeared. This is the consular agency at Bartholomew, W. I., which has been held since 1860 by R. B. Dinze, of Pennsylvania. Fees and fees only, is Mr. Dinze's compensation; but the record of the state department for years past, show that no fees have ever been received there. Mr. Dinze is in business there, and holds the position for the social influence it gives him. A. G. Webster, consul at Hobart, Tasmania, receives less than $10 per year in fees and no salary.

The establishment of the consular clerks was looked upon as a preliminary step towards a civil service system in the consular service. These clerks are twelve in number, and hold office during good behavior. They are appointed by the president, and he cannot remove any of them without the consent of the senate. The pay is but $1,200 and $1,000 per year, but the places are considerable because of the privileges connected with them.

New York, Sept. 30.—A broken down old man, who had slept off a fit of intoxication in a prison cell, answered to the name of George Foster when he was called to the bar at the Harlem police court Saturday morning. He was charged with being a "common drunkard." At the examination it became known that the prisoner was Gen.
George Foster, who was district attorney of Washington, at the time President Lincoln was assassinated.

Gen. Foster conducted the prosecution of Herold, Mrs. Surratt and Atze Roth, who were hanged for the crime.
Foster says he never had a day's luck since Mrs. Surratt was hanged. Friday night he was arrested in Harry Hill's place, at One Hundred and Thirtieth street and Third avenue, so drunk he couldn't stand up. Saturday he was let go with a reprimand.

SUFFERING AT SPRING VALLEY.

People Living a Month on Eighty-Four Cents' Worth of Food.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Henry D. Lloyd, of this city, who has just returned from a visit to Spring Valley, Ill., where he distributed among the destitute miners medicines furnished by a charitable New York lady, writes a long letter to The Tribune in which he describes the wretched condition of the people there.

"Among other means of getting intelligent and unbiased information as to the exact state of things," he says, "I visited the Catholic school and the public school, in which together there are over 60 children, and talked with the teachers and many of the children. The sisters who teach in the Catholic school said that their children gave unmistakable evidence of not having sufficient food. They were paler than the year before and they could not study as well.
Children would frequently fall asleep at their desks from weakness. But so studious was their pride and self-respect that it was almost impossible for their teachers to obtain from them any ac-knowledgegment that they did not get enough to eat at home.

"Children who were unmistakably suffering for want of nourishment would even refuse food when offered them by their teacher, and, in some cases, the sister superior said, when food was taken by some such child, it was immediately rejected by the stomach, showing how far the exhaustion of hunger had gone.
One of the teachers in the public school stated that on her way to the school in the morning she would sometimes meet as many as a dozen of her class out with baskets, going to beg. As they saw her the little things, ashamed, would try to hide from sight until she had passed. In both schools numbers of the children were insufficiently clothed, little boys and girls of the tenderest years having on only some light sack or jacket, with no underclothing. It was a cold, bleak day, but many were barefoot. How the people have lived at all is a mystery.

"There have been during the last four weeks, ending Sept. 25, five distributions by the relief committee all in goods, no money has been given out—and the extent of this charity has sufficiently indicated by the statement taken from the account of the committee that each family of seven and others in proportion, had received for the entire period of four weeks, flour, meal, etc., to the value of $5.88, or eighty-four cents' worth for each person for the whole four weeks. The mayor of the city, the editor of The Spring Valley Gazette, the Congregational clergyman, Mr. Stringer, all the physicians of the place—every one, in fact, stated without qualification, that were it not for the relief from without the people would have starved and would be starving. To check so scanty a stream of relief, eighty-four cents' worth of food for each person monthly, by talk about 'exaggeration,' seems to me nothing short of inhuman."

Mr. Lloyd declares that the death rate is high there, and that it will be greatly increased as the weather grows cold. He declares, of his own knowledge, that the sick and poor have been refused medicines and medical advice by the poor authorities there.

DEPLORE CAPTAIN JONES' DEATH.

Much Regret at Johnstown—Father Davin's Remains—Schools to Reopen

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 30.—The announcement of the death of Capt.
W. R. Jones, of Braddock, caused much sorrow here. The people of the stricken city remember him with great kindness on account of his noble work in the first days of their great sorrow.
A meeting of citizens of the devastated district has been called for to express their sorrow for his death, and sympathy for his bereaved family.

The remains of Father Davin, the priest who rendered such great service to the newspaper correspondents in the first days of the flood, have arrived here. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock.

The public schools in Johnstown and Millville boroughs opened this morning.
The two buildings that have been used as morgues have been cleaned up and put in repair for use.

While digging around in the debris yesterday, where the workmen left off on Saturday evening, some strangers came across the remains of a young girl, which had almost been uncovered.

ROUGH ON A POLYGAMIST.

Held in $5,000 Bail—His Second Wife Testifies Against Him.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Sept. 30.—Hans Jespersen was brought before United States Commissioner Hills, at Provo, Thursday, charged with polygamy, and held in $5,000 bail, and the second wife in $1,000. The latter related under oath how she was converted to Mormonism in Virginia and came to Utah last November, and gave the details of her marriage to Jespersen in the Mormon temple at Manti five months ago.

She told how she subsequently came to Salt Lake City, where she went through the endowment house where all polygamous marriages and other secret rites of the church are solemnized.
She could not tell who performed the ceremony as, whoever it was stayed behind a curtain.

No marriage license was procured as the Tucker-Edmunds law provides. The case is important, owing to the fact that for several years past it has been next to impossible to secure a conviction in one of these cases. Had the plural wife not testified freely her husband would have escaped the five years' penalty which now stares him in the face.

Minister Washburn Back.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The steamship Labretague arrived yesterday from Havre with 563 passengers. Among them was Hon. J. D. Washburn, the American minister to Switzerland.

The Central Wreck.

It is Not as Disastrous as First Reported.

ALTHOUGH IT IS BAD ENOUGH.

Four Persons Killed Outright and About a Dozen Severely Injured—Narrow Escape of President Ingalls, of the Big Four Railroad—List of the Killed and Injured.

CANAJOHARIE, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The accident on the New York Central railroad, though not so fatal as at first reported, was a terrible one. Four persons were killed and a dozen or more injured. The train to which the accident occurred was the St. Louis and Chicago express, bound west, which, owing to the heavy travel, was run in two sections. The first section left Pond at 11:20, ten minutes late. The sections generally run ten minutes apart, which latter order, from best information obtained, seems to have been disregarded.

When the first section, Charles Averill, conductor, reached a point opposite the Brandywine rift in the Mohawk river, Engineer William Weeks, of Albany, of the first section, noticed a giving out of the steam chest of his engine. He immediately stopped, and, as several passengers state the hind brakeman of the first section ran back like a shot. As near as President Ledyard, of the Michigan Central, can judge, it was not over five or six minutes before the crash came.

Horth, the engineer of the second section, says he made every effort to stop by applying the air-brakes, but said they did not seem to work and nothing was left for him to do but brace himself for the crash. He was pitched out of the window of his cab and landed in such a manner as to seriously break both his legs and otherwise injure him. His fireman, John Slater, went up about twenty feet in the air and landed on top of the Boston and Albany railroad's baggage car in the rear, which struck with such tremendous force that it was more than half way telescoped with the rear part of the engine.

Baggage man E. Wilcox, of Syracuse, was thrown into one end of the car, and quite seriously hurt about the head. He was the first to come to the rescue of the unfortunate fireman on top of the car, and the latter, though badly shocked, was not very seriously injured.

The first section was made up of a baggage, mail, express and through passenger car, besides a Wagner sleeper, the New Mexico, the private car Kankakee, of President Ingalls, of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad, and the private car of President H. B. Ledyard, of the Michigan Central railroad. The latter car was on the rear, and was made of oak under-work and pine siding, and is said to be the strongest and most perfect car ever constructed.

The fact that this car is far less damaged than the locomotive, and only the rear trucks are lifted from the track, argues well for the solidity of the car.
In the car were President Ledyard, also Ashley Pond, general manager, and Henry Russell, of the Michigan Central railroad, also the latter's daughter and a Mrs. Williams, of Detroit, a guest of Mr. Pond's. In President Ingalls' car, the Kankakee, was his family, also N. R.
Johnson, his private secretary, of Cincinnati, and Charles Franklin, a porter, who was formerly with the Pullman company. The latter was instantly killed, all of the others escaping serious injury.

The Kankakee, being next to the Big Michigan Central car, was shoved with great force through the Wagner sleeper ahead, which was packed with people.
The two cars telescoped, caused a terrible crash, knocked out the lights and splintered both cars. The persons in the upper births escaped with slight injuries, several crawling out of holes in the top of the cars.

Following is the list of the killed:
William H. Manning, of Marquette, Mich.; Charles Franklin and Alphonse colored porters.

The injured are the following: Mrs.
William H. Manning, of Marquette, Mich.; William McElroy, of McElroy, Lewis & Fowler, of New York; Miss Tate, of Fredonia, N. Y.; Mrs. M. E.
Ingalls, wife of President Ingalls, slightly, and William Horth, engineer of the second section.

The condition of Mrs. William H.
Manning is much improved. Miss Tate, of Fredonia, who is also at the Hotel Wagner, is still in a dangerous condition. She suffered much from hemorrhage and from the injuries to her jaw and back.

William H. McElroy, of New York, is out of danger. His partner, R. A. Fowler, and friend, H. L. Lewis, have returned to New York.

SOCIALIST MASS MEETING.

Speakers Discuss the Topic "Our Principles and Our Tactics."

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—A mass meeting was held Sunday afternoon at Vorwaerts Turner Hall, under the auspices of the Socialist Labor party. The topic was "Our principles and our tactics." Adelbert Hamilton, a local attorney, was chairman, and introduced J. F.
Bushe, of New York, as first speaker.
Mr. Bushe briefly outlined the fundamental principles of state Socialism. He declared that believers in Socialism were in no sense Anarchists or sympathizers with Anarchists, and that the delegates present at the convention were not there to pass resolutions regretting the hanging of Spies, Parsons and the rest. He declared that Socialists were loyal to the government, and believed in centralization of the executive and distribution of the legislative powers.

L. Wynnman, the next speaker, said the party could not countenance any sort of a combine with any other party, as such action would in Socialism without helping the laboring man a particle.

Tommy Morgan, the local Socialist leader, followed with one of his characteristic speeches. He said that by reason of the private ownership of land and private monopolies were easily created. These pools were so strong that they defied even the law. Four men control the meat market, eight own the hard coal and sixty families all the railroads.

In the regular session of the convention little was done. Chairman Bushe called for the report of Secretary Rosenberg, of New York. The reading of it occupied over two hours. Rosenberg denounces Sergius S. Schevitch, editor of The Volks Zeitung and Lucian Sanial, of the Progressive Labor party, as boodlers, and produced papers and documents to support his assertion.
Rosenberg, Hintze, Gercke and Sauter, the members of the executive who were suspended, intended to appeal to the party at this convention and expect to be recognized as the executive authority of the National organization.

The charges preferred by Secretary Rosenberg will be referred to a special committee of investigation.

NAT LIE AT BELGRADE.

The Ex-Queen Received by the People with Utmost Enthusiasm.

BELGRADE, Sept. 30.—Ex-Queen Natalie arrived here Sunday. Her presence was totally ignored by the government officials, but she was received most enthusiastically by the crowds that thronged the streets through which she passed. On private residences throughout the city flags were displayed in her honor. The official Gazette, in announcing that no official reception will be given Natalie, asserts that ex-King Milan has the sole right to regulate the relations between Natalie and her son.

The reception was spontaneous, and the enthusiasm of the people was indescribable. It is estimated that there were 50,000 in the streets. After a brilliant triumphal progress to her residence the ex-queen was obliged to appear on the balcony to respond to the plaudits of the multitude.

In the evening the city was illuminated, and throngs of citizens were in the streets singing the nation's hymns.
The Russian minister and all the attachés of the Russian embassy visited the ex-queen, remaining half an hour.
The palace gates were closed during the day and guarded by troops.

A Foolhardy Undertaking.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 30.— Floating down the Niagara river from Grass Island and landing on the head of Goat Island is considered at all times a very hazardous undertaking, and of no practical use, yet it has been accomplished several times. This summer "Jocco" Walker and one Darry were carried over the Horseshoe Falls, when it was supposed they, too, were trying to reach the island, but those casualties did not prevent Anthony Walker, a well known river pilot, from attempting the trip yesterday afternoon. Taking an old scow he rowed over to Grass Island and amid much excitement made the trip successfully. Good luck more than good management landed him on the island.

Killed by a Landslide.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 30.—A Filander named Rosendahl, and a companion, John Longigo, engaged on the construction of the Gatineau Valley railway, lost their lives Saturday evening through a landslide in a cutting near Ironides. The cutting at this place is deep and precipitous. John Sandson, who was above watching the operations, noticed the bank about to give way and called to the men, ten of whom were working below. All escaped except the two above named. Rosendahl was about 36 years old. He had been in Canada only three months, and leaves a widow and four children destitute.

Farmers' Alliance Organized.

MONTICELLO, Ill., Sept. 30.—The farmers of Ivesdale, near here, have organized a large association called the Farmers' Alliance. There are eighty-five members and they will erect a large warehouse. T. J. Cannon, J. B. Edgar, A. Know and others are the managers and the incorporators. The alliance takes the place of the grange that was so popular a few years ago among the farmers. These alliances are being formed all through the state of Illinois for mutual protection and to fight monopolies.

Farmers' Revocating Dressed Meat.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 30.—About 800 prominent farmers of Lancaster county met yesterday afternoon at Bohannons hall, in response to a call and organized to protect themselves against the packers who are shipping in dressed meat and selling to local dealers. A committee was appointed to formulate a plan of campaign and report at a meeting to be held next Saturday. Many speeches were made. The plan which seemed to be most popular was to boycott the local dealers and their patrons who buy this meat.

Floods in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 30.—The city of Celaya is almost entirely inundated.
Many families have sought refuge in the former convent of St. Francis. Railroad traffic is impeded. Heavy storms are reported at Palenque and on the Guatemalan frontier.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY
ROSSER & MCCARTH, Proprietors

MONDAY, SEPT. 30, 1889.

Both parties in Ohio are desperately in earnest in the campaign now in progress, and the fight waxes warmer and warmer.

The next Governor of Ohio may not be James E. Campbell, but the next U. S. Senator from the Buckeye State will likely be a Democrat.

The Ashland Democrat says when the proper time arrives Northeastern Kentucky Democrats will name Hon. Laban T. Moore as their choice for Governor.

PRESIDENT HARRISON would have stood much higher in the esteem of the people of the land had he left Tanner in New York, and never selected Mahone as one of the administration's favorites.

A VERY prominent Ohio Republican informed "Gath" that the chances in Ohio were against Foraker, but that they hoped to pull him through. A pretty strong admission of weakness, remarks an exchange.

PRESIDENT HARRISON will act wisely if he gives the public all the facts in reference to Tanner's profligate and careless administration of the Pension Department. Should he try to smother the matter up Congress may take a hand at the case.

TANNER is pretty severe in his letter to Dalzell on Acting Pension Commissioner Smith. Hear him: "But he (Smith) is a man who dare not say his soul is his own." And further on he says:

Smith also issued an order stopping all ratings. He did not object to it until after I had re-rated him and put him up to $2 for the loss of his arm and leg, thereby putting $6,035 in his pocket. I held, and still hold, that he was clearly entitled to it, but is it not contemptible that a man who had had that done for him, and who had acquiesced in his own case, should now be so pronounced against the rating of poor devils who, perhaps from the effects of malarial poisoning, chronic diarrhoea, or some disease of that kind, suffer twice as much as a man does from amputation.

And this "contemptible" man Smith is still running the pension office. Nice man, he, to be in such an important position.

If all reports are true fiery Foraker, of Ohio, has got into the worst row he has ever started out to hoe. "King Bob" Kennedy has joined the crowd of prominent Republican sulkers and is harder on the Governor than General Beatty was not long ago. Talking to a friend the other day, Kennedy said: "I don't want to take the stump if I can help it, but I suppose I must make some show of supporting the ticket. It will go hard with me, though. Foraker lied to me. He told me personally that he wanted me to be a candidate for Governor, and that he would help me all he could. He lied to me willfully and deliberately, and I don't want to help that kind of a man." Foraker's ambition has driven his ship into the political breakers, where the seas are very rough, and it will likely go down on the rock of the third-termism in the storm that will sweep over the Buckeye State in November.

C. W. McCORMICK.

PROFESSOR SHALER and the Covington Commonwealth are discussing the subject of roads. The Commonwealth says: "Of all the States to-day, Kentucky maintains a system of road building by corporations, with higher rates of toll, and more power in the corporations than any of her sisters. The remedy is not so much in a new system which may not bring roads so good as now exist, but in a healthy sentiment which can even move a Legislative body to come to the relief of a community possessed of roads made impassible not because of their bad condition but of the high rates of toll. While county government prevails in Kentucky, as against the Township system of New England, corporations will control turnpikes, and it is needed that the law should control the corporations."

The big turnpike corporations of Mason County after paying expenses and handsome dividends last year had a surplus of several thousand dollars. It seems they could afford to lower their rates of toll.

The Democrats of Cincinnati nominated Frank Reynolds for member of the Board of Public Works last week, and the Commercial-Gazette came out next day and charged him with having been connected with a recent prize fight. Result, Mr. Halstead has a $25,000 libel suit on hand.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect, and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Startling Discoveries

Made in the Snell Murder Case at Chicago.

TASCOTT NOT THE MURDERER.

The Chicago Tribune Says That Three Men Committed the Crime—A Confession of One of the Principal Parties Who is Now Dead.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The Tribune says it is at last able to throw new and positive light on the mystery of Millionaire Snell's murder. It has discovered that three men took part in the crime. One stood guard outside the house, two went in, cracked the safe in the basement, and together shot Mr. Snell. One of these two was James Gillan, a noted thief and ex-convict.

THE MURDERED MAN, ment, and together shot Mr. Snell. One of these two was James Gillan, a noted thief and ex-convict.

It has been ascertained that Gillan made a full confession of the crime to Father Sullivan, of St. Jarlath's church, the night before his death, six months ago, at the county hospital. More important still, a statement made by Gillan the morning after the murder to an old and reputable lawyer, whose services he wished to retain in the event of his arrest, has been obtained in the lawyer's writing. A mass of collateral details, though not needed to verify the fact of Gillan's guilt, which is established by the confession and statement, has been collected with a view to the detection of his accomplices.

If the result of these discoveries does not show that the Tascott of the Snell case and Gillan were the same person, it will show that Tascott was merely a cat-spaw used by Gillan for the purchase of tools and the secretion and disposition of stolen property, and that others, hitherto as free from suspicion as Gillan, were the latter's partners in the murder.

Gillan, in his statement to his lawyer, describes the shooting of Millionaire Snell as follows:

"Just as I got the parlor door open I looked up, and there stood the old man at the head of the stairs. He saw me and swore at me. I lost no time in getting inside of the parlor, and was about to try to open the connecting doors when a shot was fired from the hall or stairway. This rattled me a little, and not daring to make a noise by forcing the doors, I went back to the door I had come in by from the hall. When Snell saw me the second time at the parlor door he again began his loud talk, saying he had me in a hole and he would catch me and break every bone in my body. Just then my companion showed at the rear of the hall and head of the basement stairs. The old man had been trying to fire his revolver at me, but could not make it go off for some reason. He now turned to the man at the head of the stairs.

"I thought to take advantage of this diversion and step past Snell through the hall, but could not. At this time he succeeded in again firing his revolver, and toward me. I had not shown mine, but finding his working again, and fearing my life, I shot without sighting or taking other aim than by holding the pistol toward him. Almost at the same instant I saw his flash my companion fired, and it was evident Snell was badly wounded by one or both of us, for he staggered and in a short time fell dead in the hall."

The Tribune says: As to Tascott's part in the tragedy there are excellent reasons for believing that Gillan's statements exonerating him from direct complicity may be correct. It is known from Gillan's former associates that he had been in the habit of using Tascott, who was not under the suspicion of the police, as an agent between himself and the purchasers of his stolen goods. It is the opinion of those who knew Gillan best that he, being aware that Tascott had left the city about the time of the murder, put the papers from the Snell safe in Tascott's stove, which were found there sixteen days later. There were special reasons why suspicious once directed toward Tascott would take root and they were unknown to Gillan. They related to the fact that Tascott was acquainted with the family.

In this connection it is said, on the authority of Tascott's brother, that Tascott, on hearing while in Madison, Wis., that he was charged with the murder, came to Chicago on funds supplied by the brother to declare his innocence and stand trial. He consulted a LaSalle street attorney. The attorney investigated the circumstantial evidence which had been heralded as sufficient to convict him, and advised him to stand trial. Tascott learned, however, of the discovery of a lot of stolen property in his closet, which he had been secreting for Gillan. He learned that this property, consisting of fine guitars, mandolins and silverware, had been identified by various West Side residents, whose houses Gillan had pillaged. He realized that if he escaped on the charge of murder he would be convicted for receiving stolen goods if not for robbery. He determined to leave Chicago again, and did so.

A Pauper Left Two Million Dollars. SHAMOKIN, Pa., Sept. 30.—John Brennan, an inmate of the almshouse, has been notified that his sister, Mrs. John Carson, had died in San Francisco and left him $2,000,000. Brennan and two sisters landed at Castle Garden from Dublin in 1845. The girls went to the coast and started a lunch counter in 49 days. Brennan has worked in the coal mines all his life until he broke a leg in 1884 and went to the county almshouse.

Governor Martin's Illness Serious. ATCHISON, Kas., Sept. 30.—Governor Martin's illness is more serious than was at first supposed. For nine weeks he has been suffering from a peculiar malady, which his physicians have been unable to diagnose, and now typhoid fever has set in.

THE QUEBEC VICTIMS.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury Blame the City Authorities for the Disaster.

QUEBEC, Sept. 30.—The inquest on the death of the victims of the recent landslide was closed Saturday afternoon. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the deaths were the result of gross and culpable negligence on the part of the Federal officers of the Dominion in not taking necessary precautions by building the buttresses recommended to the authorities by the city engineer of Quebec in 1880; that the death of Joseph Kemp was due to gross negligence of the municipal authorities of Quebec in not procuring and furnishing requisite implements to extricate him.

The jury further says that more lives would have been saved had such implements been procured, adding that too much time was lost in extricating the dead. Erastus Wiman's offer to subscribe to the relief fund was temporarily declined, as $1,900 is still at the relief committee's disposition.

Kentucky STOCK FARM

(BLUE GRASS)

FOR SALE OR LEASE.

I will sell, or lease for a term of years, MEL-ROSE STOCK FARM, the home of the late W. T. Dudley, situated within one mile of Frankfort, Ky., on the Lexington turnpike, and L. and N. Railroad, containing 265 acres, which may be divided into two tracts, one containing 165 acres, with the residence and improvements, and the other 100 acres with one tenement house.

The soil is rich, producing large yields of tobacco, wheat, corn, etc., and there are five never-failing springs of limestone water on the place. The residence is of brick, with ten rooms, located on a commanding eminence and surrounded by forest trees. Improvements include two large stables, two large tobacco barns and other farm buildings, all in perfect repair, and a fine orchard of best fruits, now in full bearing. An excellent half-mile track may be made on the place. This farm has all the requisites for a first-class stock farm, offering special advantages for raising and training horses, the greater part of it being now well set in blue grass. Will take $20,000 for the whole place, one-quarter cash, balance in one, two and three years, with interest, or will lease for five years at $2,000 per year.

For further particulars address FRANK CHRYN, Attorney, Frankfort, Ky.
